"The Holman story started in 1924 with one dream, to build a family business, and one vision, to always do the right thing for our people, our customers and our community," Melinda "Mindy" Holman, company chairman serving as the third generation of guidance in this family-owned and operated automotive business, wrote on the company website. "Since then, we've stood by this commitment, and our collective actions have taken a visible place in our lives and our work. We will continue to be guided by the core principles upon which our business was founded: hiring and empowering the best, most talented individuals, providing exceptional customer service and giving back to our communities."

Holman is scheduled to hold immediate interviews for qualified candidates from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. at 28474 N. Main St. in Daphne Wednesday, with positions including competitive pay, health insurance, 401(k) matching, tuition assistance and more. Growth opportunities in addition to forklift training and certification will also be provided.

While interested candidates were encouraged to complete online pre-applications, walk-ins will still be accepted.

Holman, an automotive service company building a new commercial vehicle equipment distribution warehouse in Loxley, is hosting a hiring event today, April 24, in hopes of filling multiple full-time positions for its new 80,000-square-foot facility.

MORATORIUM FROM PAGE A1

"Those are the goals that are coming out of the survey results and the communications that have been expressed to the Planning Commission and that are in the process of being adopted into the new comprehensive plan," Babington said.

The proposed moratorium highlights its intention not to hinder family divisions, minor subdivisions or non-residential developments.

"The purpose of the moratorium," Babington stated, "is merely to give the Planning Commission and Town Council a window during which they can implement the wishes of the town residents and those in the ETJ by adopting new subdivision regulations and enhancing the zoning ordinances in accordance with the new comprehensive plan that's going to be hopefully adopted by September or October."

At the Planning Commission meeting, the resolution received approval for a Town Council vote. Subsequently, during the following Town Council meeting, Resolution 2024-11 was passed, promptly putting the moratorium into effect until December 31, 2024.
